FINS Begins Website

Connecting the Community

Connecting the community of neurologists, neuroscientists, technologists, therapists, nurses, mid-level practitioners and researchers to the community is critical to the success of neuroscience care. We are beginning to work on a number of ideas and are interested in input.

We Are Still Under Construction!

Please be patient as we develop content and feel free to let us know if you have any ideas or comments at admin@finsneuro.com

Thank you

The Beginning of FINS

Some Quotations from John Hancock

As the initial discussions around the creation of FINS began, there was discussion of these quotations from one of our founding fathers, John Hancock.

“We must be unanimous; there must be no pulling different ways; we must hang together.”

-- John Hancock

“The more people who own little businesses of their own, the safer our country will be, and the better off its cities and towns; for the people who have a stake in their country and their community are its best citizens.”

-- John Hancock

“I shall look forward to a pleasant time.”

-- John Hancock
